GUILFORD WORTH ONE WHOLE STORY

ONLY TRAVELOGUE WHICH DOES NOT TAKE IN COUNTRY.

THANKS TO CARL WRAY WHO MISSED CALLING

Good Bank Cashier Would Have Made Fine Newspaper Man--Some Things He Told Editor.

(By Vernon Nash)

When we arrived in Guilford and had satisfied the inner man with several eggs, a half pound of honey with bread, ice cream and other mixtures of good things, I headed across the street to see the man who missed his calling. That man is Carl Wray, who spoiled a good newspaper man to make a good cashier of the Bank of Guilford.

I felt certain that news would be forthcoming at once, and it was. Mr. Wray had been watching our county "travelogues" and knowing that I would soon arrive in his town, he had jotted down a long list of things about his home town and Washington township, which as he says is "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of its countrymen."

Mr. Wray thinks his good opinion of Washington township is well supported by the way their $25,000 road bonds were recently voted. They brought 5 per cent with a premium of $381.75. Crop conditions there are good and there is more good hay in the mow and stack than in many years.

That community is getting ready to celebrate the prosperity in their annual Guilford and Bethel Sunday School picnic, which is always held in the middle of August, and is a big event. It is held under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South, of which the Rev. O. E. Lockart is pastor.

Church Has Good Record.

The grove of W. D. McClanahan, two miles east of Guilford, will be the scene of the fun and August 16 will be the date this year. Mr. Lockart is closing out his first year as pastor of the Guilford charge and will take an unusually successful report with him to the annual conference at Fayette.

Beside doing some more work toward the completion of the fine new brick church, a new parsonage has been bought and paid for during the year. The church has raised more than $3,000 since the new pastor was sent. The church is issuing a monthly publication called "The Guilford and Bethel Methodist," of which Mr. Lockart is editor.

W. V. Overby of Guilford is a busy man these days, visiting the farmers on his motorcycle to inspect and contract for their grain as it is threshed. He lives at Guilford and has charge of the Shannon elevators there and at Parnell, Ravenwood, Sheridan and Rea.

James H. McClanahan is building one of the finest homes in the county, a fine new modern two-story structure with every latest convenience in it. It is in the northeast part of town on the main street leading out to the east. Guilford has many nice homes, and so has the township. Mrs. J. E. Gleaves is building a new home eight miles southeast of Guilford.

PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS.

Returns from the state-wide primary both in Missouri and Nodaway County will be bulletined by The Democrat-Forum tonight in the circuit court room at the courthouse. The latest returns may be obtained by calling us, Hanamo 42 and Farmers 114.

The vote started out very light this morning and only 670 had voted at 3 o'clock in Polk township. This was divided among the precincts as follows: First ward, 160; Second, 138; Third, 147; and Fourth, 229.

All statements concerning the standing of the candidates are mere guess work because of the complicated condition of the ballot.

Call us or come to the courthouse tonight to get the final count of every precinct.

EXHIBIT AT GRAHAM

HOME ECONOMICS SHOW NEXT FALL FOR HUGHES TWP.

BETTER BABIES CONTEST

Club Organized There Last Year by Miss Bell of University — All Plans Being Completed.

The Home Economics club of Hughes township will hold a home economics contest and an exhibit at Graham November 17 and 18. This contest will be open to all women and girls over 8 years of age who are residents of Hughes township.

A list of the products to be entered, the prizes offered and the conditions governing the contest will be sent to each family in the township. At the same time there will be placed on display an exhibit of suitable and practical clothing for women and children, which has been worked out by the domestic art department of the University of Missouri.

The committee will also have at that time a Better Babies' contest, which will include all children of the township between the ages of 6 months and 4 years. The babies will be scored according to the regulation score card of the American Medical association by medical men and an expert who is skilled in conducting these contests.

The Home Economics club numbering twenty-five was organized last March by Miss Babb Bell of the agricultural extension department of the University of Missouri, while she was holding a movable school at Graham. The club officers are: President, Mrs. N. M. Rhoades; secretary, Mrs. R. H. Swank, and treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Freytag.

LIGHT VOTE IN KANSAS

Attorney General Denies Report That Women Can't Cast Ballot for Presidential Electors.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Topeka, Aug. 1.—Early reports indicate that a light vote will be polled in the state primary election. The report that women were not to be allowed to vote for the presidential electors was quieted by a statement from the attorney general that women can vote for any candidate men can.

TWO PARADES READY

CROWDS FOR ELECTION RETURNS AND NEGRO PICNIC.

OUT ON TICKET SALE NOW

Band Concert Program Tonight Will Follow Auto Trip Over Maryville to Boost Chautauqua.

The two parades tonight and tomorrow will be carried out according to arrangements unless something more stormy than has been shown happens. It is felt that a slight rain will make the auto trip over the streets of Maryville even more attractive.

The children are said to be enthusiastic over the opportunity which has been presented for their having a part in the pre-convention chautauqua work. Their parade tomorrow morning is also expected to attract the greatest general interest.

The crowd in town tonight to get the primary results and the crowd for the negro celebration tomorrow morning will make the parades have better results. A number of young men began work this morning on the sale of season tickets. They are visiting the persons who bought tickets last year first and will make a thorough canvass.

At the close of the parade tonight, which will break up at the square, the Maryville band which will lead the procession of autos, will enter the band stand and give the following program for the weekly band concert:

March, "Chicago Tribune" (Chambers).

Overture, "Selection of Favorite Melodies" (Lake).

Two Step, "The Little House Upon the Hill" (Puck).

Waltz, "I'll Change the Shadows to Sunshine" (Ball).

Patrol, "The Blue and the Gray" (Dalbey).

Overture, "Poet and Peasant" (Suppe).

One Step, "We'll Never Let Our Flag Fall" (Kelly).

Two Step, "Good-Bye, Boys" (Von Tilzer).

March, "Northwind" (Chambers).

RAVENWOOD LIGHT 90-9

Maryville Electric Light and Power Company Gets Franchise for Service.

Ravenwood wants the Maryville electric lights without any doubt, although there seems to have been nine who objected or did not know how to vote. The vote yesterday was 90 to 9 on the proposition to grant a franchise to the Maryville Electric Light and Power company.

The material for the construction of the line will be ordered at once and a permit for the placing of the poles will be sought by the company from the county court. In the meantime it is expected that the contract will be signed by the convent and monastery for service. Parnell and Guilford are also discussing the receiving of the service also.

WHAT'S TWO BROKEN RIBS

Lambert Stephenson of Maryville Goes to Ball Game Anyway and Faints.

Soon after noon today the police ambulance was called to League park to get a man named Lambert Stephenson, 25 years old, of Maryville, Mo., with two ribs broken. The injured man was sent to St. Joseph's hospital and attended by Dr. J. L. Cox, police surgeon, who said that his condition is not serious. Stephenson told the police a man had knocked him down and kicked him. He went to witness the afternoon's ball game, but fainted before play started.—St. Joseph News-Press.

ARRESTS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Pres. MacKelsie of the Dock Company Arrested in Connection With Ammunition Explosion.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Aug. 1.—President MacKelsie of the National Dock and Storage company was arrested this morning on a manslaughter charge in connection with the ammunition explosion. The authorities are now seeking evidence to warrant the arrest of two millionaire railway presidents.

Mrs. Berney Harris and her daughter Betty leave in the morning for Memphis, Tenn., where they will make their home.

CLEANING STREETS

COMMERCIAL CLUB GETS FUNDS FOR FLUSHER WORK.

PART OF CIVIC WELFARE

City Unable to Carry Burden So Subscription Paper Underwrites $110 a Month.

The city welfare committee of the Maryville Commercial club has raised sufficient money to assure the proper cleaning of the streets from now on until it is no longer necessary. The sweeping and hauling away of rubbish and refuse was resumed yesterday and the flusher will start work as soon as it is needed.

It takes $110 a month to keep the work going. The city was not able this year to pay the $75 a month for the driver which has previously been done, so this extra burden fell on the canvassers and the city welfare committee. The city is furnishing a laborer to help with the accumulated surplus now. He will be withdrawn as soon as the work is caught up.

No work had been done for two weeks and the situation was becoming bad. It is still undesirable but will be cleaned up soon. George Robb Ellison is chairman of the committee of the Commercial club. Dr. Jesse Miller and F. W. Crow are the other members.

MRS. SARAH YOWELL, 68, DIES

Body Taken to Old Home at Marshall for Burial—Funeral Services There Today.

Mrs. Sarah E. Yowell, 68 years old, died at St. Joseph's hospital at St. Joseph at 2:28 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Yowell has been an invalid for many years and for the last two years was in the hospital taking treatment.

Mrs. Yowell was born in eastern Virginia. She came with her husband, Louis Yowell, to Saline county about thirty-six years ago and lived near Marshall in that county until five years ago, when the family moved to Maryville. She is survived by her husband, and by two sons and two daughters, Miss Ella Yowell who lives at home, Mrs. J. A. Brame, L. L. and Lucien Yowell, also of Maryville. Henry Childress, a brother of Mrs. Yowell, lives in Maryville, and a sister, Mrs. Madison Yowell, living in Kansas City.

The body was taken to Marshall for burial, arriving there at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Funeral services were held this afternoon from the home of Mrs. Irvin Clements, a niece of Mr. Yowell. Burial was in a cemetery near Marshall.

JULY WAS WARM ONE

MEAN TEMPERATURE 82.1 WHILE 75.7 IS NORMAL.

RAIN BREAKS WAVE HERE

Only .19 Inch Fell, However—Hottest July Since 1901—Some Comparative Records.

X

July of this year had a mean temperature of 82.1, which is much higher than the normal of 75.7, and the warmest July since 1901 when the mercury level was 84.2. It was only 74 at noon today because of the rain but it jumped close to the 100 record yesterday with a high limit of 99.

The total rainfall for the month was 1.87. The greatest rainfall for the month was last year when there was a precipitation of 20.65. The lowest fall was in 1910, when the precipitation was only .88. The amount yesterday was but .03 and only .16 fell this morning.

The highest temperature on record for July was 108 on July 5, 1911. The highest in the last month was 100 on the 25th, 28th and 30th. The lowest July temperature on record was 49 on July 7, 1908. The lowest in July of this year was 59 on the 21st.

Night temperatures, known as the high minimums, are of considerable interest as affecting the time of sleep. Last Sunday night when the mercury never went below 73, was the July record this year. In 1910 the records show that the thermometer never registered lower than 89 on the night of the 5th. J. R. Brink, local weather observer, is inclined to doubt this record.

Teuton Collapse in Galicia Seen.

London, Aug. 1.—The German's attacks against the French in Picardy were shifted south of the Somme in an effort to hold back the Peronne advance. The Teutons attack at Lihons is said to have been repulsed. The bombardment last night on the bank of the Muese has increased in violence.

A wireless from Rome says that the army of von Bothmer has been enveloped by a sudden flank movement by the Russians in Galacia. If this is correct the collapse of the Teuton defense in Galacia seems imminent.

HUGHES OUT FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE GOES BEYOND PARTY'S PLATFORM.

ASSAILS WILSON IN ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

Nominee Says Americans Cannot Even Look on Record Without Deepest Humiliation.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Aug. 1.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president, declared himself in favor of an amendment to the constitution of the United States giving women the right to vote on an equal basis with the men.

He made his views known in a telegram to Senator Sutherland of Utah. Hughes states that the proposed amendment should be submitted and ratified in order to remove the question of women's suffrage from politcs.

Hughes Speech of Acceptance.

New York, Aug. 1.—Charles E. Hughes last night outlined in his speech of acceptance the issues upon which he will conduct his campaign for the presidency.

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration for the course it has pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness, and other great questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for "the [illegible]flinching maintenance of all American rights on land and sea," and for "adequate national defense, adequate protection for both our western and eastern coasts.

"We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort for their suppression."

The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction and diplomatic intercourse," from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertness there has been weakness and inexpertness. He cited Santa Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving Democrats," and to the failure to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris after the war had started, as a lamentable sacrifice of international impute."

WHAT GREAT WAR HAS ALREADY COST

BEST ESTIMATES NOW PLACE IT AT $55,000,000,000.

DAILY TOLL PLACED AT 110 MILLION NOW

Official Figures Available in Many Cases of Vast Drain on Finances of the Belligerents.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Aug. 1.—On August 1, the second anniversary of the start of the Great War, the direct money cost to all the belligerents will have reached $55,000,000,000.

This is the concensus of financial opinion here. Estimates six months ago were slightly lower, but the daily cost has mounted steadily and the figures given are considered conservative.

The direct cost does not include the losses by destruction of property, by the disorganization of civilian industry, by the death and crippling of workers and by enervating human sickness and misery.

The money spent is apportioned approximately as follows:

Great Britain(including Colonies)	$13,000,000,000
Belgium (mostly advanced by Allies)	500,000,000
France	8,500,000,000
Russia	11,500,000,000
Serbia	350,000,000
Italy	2,500,000,000
Portugal	100,000,000
Montenegro	10,000,000
Japan	(slight)
Total, Entente Allies.	$36,960,000,000
Germany	$12,000,000,000
Austria-Hungary	6,000,000,000
Bulgaria	150,000,000
Turkey	600,000,000
Total Central Powers	$18,750,000,000
Grand Total - - -	55,710,000,000

Cost of $110,000,000 Daily.

The war is now costing all belligerents more than $110,000,000 a day. This is divided among the principal nations as follows: Great Britain, $30,000,000, (official figures); France, $17,000,000; Russia, $18,000,000; Italy, $8,500,000; Germany, $23,000,000 and Austria-Hungary, $12,000,000, the lesser powers making up the balance.

Great Britain is the only power which is paying part of the capital cost of the war out of current income. Germany is compounding her debt by not taking in taxes enough to cover all her interest charges.

The financial situation of both sides is fairly good. No country has yet resorted to the issue of fiat currency, which the North did in the Civil War, and which the recent example of Mexico proves can support continuous fighting for many years.

The same cannot be said for the economic situation. Germany and her allies are plainly in distress in many ways. Few or none have died of actual hunger, but the vitality of many non-combatants is lowered by lack of proper food. There is a great scarcity of rubber, copper, high grade iron, material for warm clothing and an almost absolute lack of strictly exotic products, such as tea, coffee and cocoa.

Mass Feeding by Teutons.

Mass feeding has been adopted by the Teuton cities. Everybody is busy, everybody eats and exists somehow, but may women and children will be cold this winter for lack of proper clothing, and unless the crops this summer are good the pinch of hunger will grow severe next spring.

In Great Britain the common people have never been so prosperous. The cost of living has advanced by more than half, but wages have increased still more and the demand for labor, both by the government and by private enterprises is insatiable.

France, too, has largely recovered from the financial shock, though activity is not on such a large scale as in England. In Russia private business is not good, but owing to the suppression of vodka the mujik is happier today and is having several times as much money as ever before.

Italy is suffering from a dearth of coal, which has closed most her factories.

Some of the neutral countries of Europe, especially Denmark, Sweden and Norway, are becoming opulent from war business. In Holland the upper classes have made money, while there have recently been food riots by the lower classes.

Switzerland is harrassed continually by both sides to the quarrel, Germany demanding to be allowed to purchase and export goods freely from Swiss towns, and the Allies threatening to withhold food and other supplies if Germany is provisioned by her mountain neighbors.

Japan, the United States, Cuba and some of the South American countries were never so prosperous in their history, due to the stimulus of war orders, which has galvanized domestic business as well.

ACTORS AND 'CUBS' BEST

FINEST SOLDIERS FROM STAGE AND NEWSPAPERDOM.

Both Are Adaptable to a Higher Degree Than Other Men and Thus Get Officers' Places.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Aug. 1.—Which profession supplies the best officers for the army? This question, put to a British drill sergeant who has had experience in an officers' training corps, produced a swift and emphatic answer.

"Actors make the best officers," he declared positively. "First of all, they know how to give the word of command, a very important consideration. They are never shy or self-conscious, and they impress the men with their personality. Give me an educated actor and I will recommend you a good officer.

"Schoolmasters make the best non-commissioned officers. Business men I have found rather difficult. They are intelligent enough, but they are not what you may call adaptable."

A staff officer endorsed the sergeant's views, with qualifications. "Professions calling for the exercise of imagination and observation do, generally speaking, provide first-class officers," he said. "Two officers on trench service constantly distinguished themselves by keen observation. They were invariably the first to notice any change in the enemy's dispositions, and both were Fleet street journalists.

"Natural resource rather than trained intelligence, counts on active service and, while this faculty may be possessed by men in all professions, it is more often found among journalists, barristers and, of course, engineers, whom I place in a class apart."

Mrs. George Howett of Seattle, Wash., is in Maryville visiting her uncle, R. S. Braniger, and Mrs. Braniger and her brother, Jim Braniger.

EX-CONVICTS NEAT

Leave Missouri Penitentiary With Stylish Suits.

NOT SPOTTED BY OUTSIDERS.

Even the Children of Jefferson City Can't Recognize Freed Prisoners In Their Tailored Checked Suits, Attractive Ties and Stylish Hats.

Jefferson City.—The man who is released from the Missouri penitentiary today does not have the appearance of the one who was liberated a few years ago, and he is no longer spotted by the children in the town as an ex-convict.

Instead of the suit of a dull brown mixture, the coarse shirts and the heavy, squeaking brogan shoes that marked him a few years ago, the present warden, D. C. McClung, has made it possible without additional expense to the state for the men to leave the prison in neat suits of fine checked patterns, such as any man might select.

These suits are made to measure of cloth manufactured in the prison. And in addition to these suits the freed convict wears attractive shirts, pretty ties and stylish hats.

By careful buying Mr. McClung has bought shirts that would retail at three or four times the price. Neat overcoats are given the men who go out in cold weather. All this work comes under the head of the commissary department, which has undergone an overhauling.

Carl McClung, son of the warden, has taken the commissary out of a small dungeon of a room to a good, clean building that formerly was used as an overall factory.

All the edibles and wearing apparel are kept in this building. Every piece of clothing, every bag of flour and every pound of all stuffs used is ticketed and can be checked up.

In a small store where the convicts may buy, run by Carl McClung, the convicts are charged just what the food would cost them outside except in the case of a few items, which are sold at less than cost.

PONY SAVES BOY'S LIFE.

Keeps Vicious Bull Away From Young Master In Nebraska.

Fairfield, Neb.—A pet pony ridden by Aubry Craft, son of Albert Craft, living north of this place, is believed to have saved the boy's life while he lay unconscious after an attack by a vicious bull.

When the boy failed to return after having gone for the cattle a search was started. He was found lying in the pasture, his face badly torn. He was unconscious. Near by was his pony.

The tracks in the dirt showed the little animal had raced round and round the unconscious boy, keeping away the bull that had attacked him. Later, when driven near the bull, the pony attempted to attack the animal.

CAT DIVES FOR FROG.

Maine Man's Story of His Wonderfully Bright Angora.

Bangor, Me.—Warren Clement of Millvale while at work in his hayfield heard a lot of splash in a pond near by and, thinking that perhaps a horse mackerel had got into the sheet of water, noiselessly approached the spot and was astonished, although he knew that he had one of the brightest cats in Maine, when he saw his pet Angora coon cat dive from a stump and disappear in the water, only to reappear within a few seconds bearing a frog in its mouth.

Depositing the now lifeless frog on the ground, the four footed coon gained the stump again, crouched, another spring, another dive, another swim and another frog.

WENDELL'S SON LICKED BULLY

Boston Mother Had Boy Taught to Use His Fists.

Boston.—A Boston mother, a leading figure in feminine activities, has sent her boy to a boxing instructor to learn to protect himself against a bully.

The son was taught to use his fists. The next time the bully molested this boy he met scientific resistance which made him let the youth alone.

The mother is Mrs. Barrett Wendell, president of the Special Aid society. Her husband is Professor Wendell of the department of English at Harvard.

"I would advocate the same teaching for the girls," said Mrs. Wendell. "Probably some jiujitsu might answer."

FUNERAL DISK EULOGY.

Minnesotan Would Provide a Substitute For Clergymen.

Lake City, Minn.—James Scott of this city is planning a series of disk phonograph records for use at funerals in remote places. The records will contain a funeral oration, a song by a quartet and a prayer.

Various types of records are planned. According to Scott, a Presbyterian will have a strong Presbyterian program. Baptists will have characteristic sermons.

If a strong eulogy is desired it will be forthcoming. The entire program will not cost more than $1.

PIGEON WAKES BOYS TO DELIVER PAPERS

Hartford (Conn.) Lads Promptly Aroused at 5:30 Every Morning by Pet Bird.

Hartford, Conn.—Herbert and Steward Carlson, brothers, are paper carriers in South Manchester and in order to get the papers around in time it is necessary for them to arise each morning at 5:30 o'clock. Ordinarily an alarm clock would be necessary to get them out, but they have a better method. They are called each morning by a pigeon.

About a year ago Steward Carlson found a pigeon that had met with an accident. It was only a squab. Its wing seemed to be broken and one leg was damaged. The boy took it home, gave it attention and the wing grew stronger, the leg improved and after awhile it learned to fly. Instead of flying away it remained in the neighborhood and became a chum of the boys in the territory.

The pigeon must have noticed the two boys leaving the house each morning about 5:30 o'clock and appointed itself an alarm clock. Every morning now, just at 5:30, the pigeon leaves its coop, flies to the window of the room in which the boys sleep and coos and pecks at the screen until they awake.

THIS SCHOOL IS RUN LIKE BASEBALL LEAGUE

Four Classes Vie to Win Games and Maintain Batting Averages by Getting High Grades.

Fort Dodge, Ia.—The following formula has been instituted in the high school here for a new game of baseball played with students and textbooks and recitations:

One recitation group equals one ball player.

One high school class equals one ball team.

One day's recitation equals one inning.

One week's work equals one game.

Average of grades made by the different recitation groups equals batting averages of the individual players.

Class with highest averages wins inning.

It is the result of studies in motivation for high school work undertaken by W. H. Blakely, principal, and is printed in a current issue of the School Review, published by the University of Chicago Press.

Mr. Blakely has 400 boys and girls engaged in an opening series of games between the four classes. The students and teachers both are said to be very enthusiastic about the scheme.

The work of figuring the averages and the standing of the teams and their members is left to the arithmetic classes of the commercial department. The bookkeeping classes keep records, and typewriting classes publish the reports and scores.

LEFT HANDED CHAIRS MADE.

Students In Kansas University to Get Seats For Their Convenience.

Lawrence, Kan.—Left handed students in Kansas university will have seats made for their special convenience when the classrooms are opened next fall.

John M. Shea, superintendent at the university, announced that five dozen left handed chairs had been ordered from a Grand Rapids machine firm and that they will be distributed as needed among the classrooms.

The difference between the new chairs and those previously used is that the arms are on the left side instead of on the right side. The company that made the chairs had never received a similar order, Mr. Shea said.

HONEYMOON RIDE COSTLY.

Detroit Bridegroom Gets Into Cell For Speeding In New York.

New York.—Thirty miles an hour in Detroit may not seem as fast as thirty miles an hour in New York, especially when the driver of the automobile is on his honeymoon.

William Berman, a wealthy real estate operator, married recently in Detroit, found this out when he was arrested at Twenty-third street and Fifth avenue for speeding and also learned that the mention of Henry Ford as your friend fails to impress New York cops.

At the West Twentieth street station he lacked $50 of the $500 bail required, so he spent two hours in a cell until a friend put up the money.

AUTO OWNER NO DISTINCTION.

More Gold Watches and Pianos In One Kansas County.

Troy, Kan.—Owning a motor car is not the only way in which to gain distinction in Doniphan county. You can achieve almost the same exclusiveness by owning a gold watch, a piano or four dogs.

Although there are only 506 autos in the county, there are just 508 gold watches—that is, according to the assessors' reports—and 551 pianos.

Ring on a Radish.

Tiffin, O.—Four years ago Mrs. W. H. Souger, wife of an implement dealer, lost a heavy gold band ring in her garden. The other day she pulled up a radish and found the ring fastened about the root.

GOVERNOR MAJOR ISSUES GOOD ROADS PROCLAMATION.

OTHER EXPERTS ADVISE

Federal Aid by Terms of New Bill Determined by Amount Done by Various States.

Jefferson City, Aug. 1.—Governor Major has issued a proclamation to permit participation by Missouri in the recent appropriation made by congress for road building under certain conditions.

The proclamation was issued after receiving notification from Secretary of Agriculture Houston of the terms of the act of congress.

The federal appropriation is for $85,000,000, to be expended over a term of five years, the general condition being that the state must expend dollar for dollar with the government.

The first year there will be approximately $125,000 available for Missouri and $225,000 the second year, increasing through each annual period.

Make Requisition Early.

State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Buffum, in a circular letter, has called the attention of county courts and county clerks to the importance of making requisition before July 31 for each county's aliquot part of the general road fund of the state for permanent highway improvements.

Requisitions for this fund that are not on file with the state auditor before July 31 may not be honored.

The fund is apportioned among the several counties on the basis of assessed valuation.

Commissioner Buffum says in his letter to the county officials:

"The requisition of county courts, through their county clerks, to obtain the money from this fund, must positively be filed with the state auditor by midnight of July 31, and the object of this letter is to call attention of all counties to the fact that a delayed requisition will not be filed by the auditor, and the necessity of getting your requisitions into the auditor's office within the time mentioned, and we suggest that you do not wait until the last days to get them in, as there might be something technical that would throw out the requisitions, or a mail may be delayed or missent."

How to Secure Federal Aid.

Advice to Missouri counties as to how to proceed to build roads and secure federal aid under the recent $85,000,000 appropriation of congress is contained in a letter which Judge J. M. Lowe, president of the National Old Trails road, is sending out to various inquirers in the state. The text of his letter:

"The simple and sure way to share in the benefits of the road bill recently passed by congress is to adopt the county-wide bond system. You can build a county system of say 200 miles at less average cost than by any other system, and all property is taxed equally, including railroads, corporations, banks, merchants, town lots, etc. By organizing now and adopting this system you will be able to apply through the state highway commissioner's office and the national secretary of agriculture for a share in the national appropriation. If you wait until this appropriation is exhausted you will not receive any of its benefits.

A greater opportunity to build permanent highways at a mimimum cost to the taxpayer has never before existed. Appoint a committee to map and designate your county system and present a petition for a bond election to your county court; also name a campaign committee and advisory committee, if desired, to co-operate with the court in letting all contracts. The same committee can also co-operate in making application for this federal aid.

Opportunity is knocking at your door as never before. This office will aid you in every possible way."

STOCKING SUPPLY SCARCE.

Silk, Lisle and Cotton Hosiery Is Also Increased.

Just a word of advice may not come amiss in these last days before the biggest sales of the year. The price of stockings, silk, lisle and even cotton is steadily and alarmingly increasing. It is even now difficult to procure certain kinds of stockings. Drop stitch white silk and lisle hose are not to be found at all at many of the shops, and compromise must be made with the French drop stitch which is said to be less durable. If one is lucky enough to find one's favorite hose, there is no doubt that buying a liberal supply will be a real economy.—Kansas City Star.

WAXED SILKS.

Waxed silks, voiles and wool and mohair mixtures are the craze now in Paris, which is quite mad over these new "tissus cires." Callot and Cheruit especially have taken up these waxed fabrics, and, in addition to the stiffness of the material, there are facings of stiffening under hems and peplums. Paris flares enormously these days, Drecoll being the only house that does not emphasize crinoline effects. Premet is exploiting flare effects extravagantly. Not only are the Premet frocks stiffened at the hem and at the hip, but broad sashes are lined with resilient fabric and boned at the ends, so that they stand out from the skirts. All bodies are snug fitting, and bones are introduced at the waist line to give the trim waist effect that accords best with a widely flaring skirt.

New York Enlarges Studies For Municipal Employees.

AIM IS TO IMPROVE THEM.

Success of Experiment Results In Organization of a Great Continuation School at City College For Those Who Wish to Advance Themselves.

New York.—An advisory board was recently organized here to take part in the direction of courses at the College of the City of New York, of which Dr. Sidney E. Mezes is president, to train young men for the municipal service.

The following men were appointed by Mayor Mitchel to serve on the newly created advisory board: Alfred D. Flinn, deputy chief engineer of the board of water supply; Michael Friedsam, well known in the mercantile world; Public Service Commissioner Henry W. Hodge, Curt G. Pfeiffer, Civil Service Commissioner Henry Moskowitz, President Charles Straus of the board of water supply, Commissioner of Accounts Leonard W. Wallstein and Gano Dunn.

In the last four years the City college has granted special student privileges to persons in the city employ, with the view to improving the efficiency of the municipal service and aiding individuals to advance. Last year the experiment was made, in cooperation with New York university, of conducting special courses for those in the city service in the municipal building.

The success of the experiment last year influenced the mayor to appoint the advisory committee and lay plans to organize a great continuation school which will aim to improve all those in the service who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity and to stimulate men to study for advancement in the city employ.

SORRY $54,923.15 WORTH.

Last Year's Conscience Fund Breaks All Records.

Washington.—Contributions to the treasury's conscience fund for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to $54,923.15, making a total of $498,763.54 returned by persons made uneasy by frauds against the government.

Figures compiled at the treasury department show the returns were much larger during the past year than ever before, chiefly because of two contributions, one for $30,000 and one for $10,000.

It was in 1811 when the first $5 came with a letter saying the writer had taken that amount from the government. It is an unwritten law of the department that no effort shall be made to learn the identity of these contributors, and even where the writer has confessed to theft the money has been accepted and no effort made to prosecute. From 1811 until 1827 there were no receipts. Since then, except for 1848, not a year has passed without amounts coming in.

SOLDIER FUGITIVE PARDONED.

Kentuckian Says He's Now a Corporal In United States Army.

Frankfort, Ky.—A fugitive for twenty years, Milton Franklin, under sentence of life imprisonment, was pardoned recently by Governor Stanley a few hours after he had appeared at the Frankfort reformatory and surrendered to Warden Wells.

Franklin was convicted of murder in the Floyd county court twenty years ago. He escaped from the Johnson county jail, where he was held pending an appeal. According to the story he told reformatory officials, he enlisted in the United States army soon after his escape and is now a corporal stationed at Columbus, O., on recruiting duty.

Wed When Two Steamers Met.

Dawson, Yukon.—Miss Cassie Henderson, daughter of Robert Henderson, discoverer of the Yukon, was married on the steamer Casca when twelve miles above Dawson. The bridegroom was Irvine Crowther, employed with the Yukon Gold company on one of its dredges on Bonanza. Mr. Crowther and the Rev. Mr. Ross went up the river in the launch Reindeer, and the wedding took place immediately after the boats met.

GOES LONG WAY TO WED.

Pretty Newfoundland Miss Traveled to Vancouver to Marry.

Vancouver, Wash.—Coming all the way from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to meet her sweetheart of school days, Miss Isabel M. Ewing, a pretty twenty-two-year-old miss, was married to Herbert G. Bradley, a restaurant man of Portland, Ore., in the office of the county auditor here recently.

It was only a few hours after her arrival in Portland, whence she had come at Bradley's call, that they came to Vancouver together and were married. Though it was several hours after the time for the marriage license bureau to close, Mrs. May R. Hacok, the county auditor, obligingly went to the courthouse and issued a license.

Justice of the Peace W. S. T. Dart was called, and the ceremony was performed in the auditor's office. Only two friends from Portland and the local officials witnessed the ceremony.

Bradley left his home in Newfoundland several years ago and came west in search of fortune. In a dairy lunch business in Portland he built up an income sufficient to send for his sweetheart.

LAD, TEASED, USED GUN.

Boy, Who Was Mountaineer, Made Onion Weeders Scatter.

Kenton, O.—A real Kentucky mountaineer of fiction type—six feet one and a half inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, although only fourteen years old—awoke the quiet settlement of Alger on the Scioto marsh, the center of the greatest onion raising district in Ohio, when he started a cannonade that sent the natives to the trenches.

He was Charles S. Hale, who hails from Greensburg, Ky., and who came to Hardin county to weed onions.

The youth bought a gun and threatened to shoot the hats off any one who opened their heads to him. He says the other weeders were teasing him. The trouble came when officers tried to arrest him. The bullet hit Harvey Porter. Spectators scattered. The lad was sent to the Lancaster Industrial school.

HAS SHAVED 243,960.

Barber Says He Has Had That Many In His Chair.

Lorain, O.—Theodore Curtis, a Lorain barber, has just celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the beginning of his career. Curtis, who has kept account of every man he has shaved, says he has removed the whiskers of 243,960 men.

"I have also cut enough hair to make eleven mattresses and to pad 43,562 crutches," said Curtis.

The barber has shaved some of the country's widely known men, including Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, Senators Mark Hanna, Matt Quay, Albert Beveridge and Ben Tillman, "Doc" Cook, Buffalo Bill, Jesse Willard, Tod Sloan and Harry Thaw.

"I would like to add Charles Evans Hughes to my list of notables," observed Curtis.

NOW IT'S "SWAT THE WEED."

Arkansas Begins Campaign to Protect Soils From Useless Growths.

Fayetteville, Ark.—"Swat 'em" applies to other things in Arkansas besides the fly. A campaign against weeds was announced recently by the extension division of the University of Arkansas, with the terse advice:

"Swat 'em and save future labor and soil fertility and soil moisture."

Weeds may cost a community or state millions of dollars, according to an extension division bulletin. Spread of weeds is said to be due to carelessness. After farmers let weeds ripen the seeds are scattered by travelers or birds or are sold with hay to infest other neighborhoods. The bulletin urges children be taught to "swat" weeds and never let one ripen to seed.

BOYS PUMPED WELL DRY.

Wanted to See a Water Wheel Work and Left Their Play.

Brazil, Ind.—Finding that surface water running into his well had made the water impure, a citizen of Brazil started to pump his well dry. After pumping half an hour in the hot sun, he gave up the job.

Then he made a miniature water wheel, which he attached to the end of a trough. After he had attracted the attention of several boys who were playing on a vacant lot, he went to his work. When he returned in the evening the boys had pumped the well dry to see the wheel go round.

MAINE GETS NATIONAL PARK.

Reservation Comprises 5,000 Acres on Mount Desert Island.

Washington.—Creation of the first national park east of the Mississippi river, comprising 5,000 acres on Mount Desert island, Maine, was announced by the interior department. It will be known as Sieur de Monts National monument.

The tract was donated to the federal government. Its northern boundary is only a mile from Bar Harbor, and several popular summer resorts lie near it. There are ten mountain peaks and four lakes within the tract.

FIND NEW TRIBES.

White Men See South American Race For First Time.

CLOTHING PUZZLES THEM.

Leader of Philadelphia University Museum Expedition Returns With Enormous Ethnological, Archaeological and Other Collections.

Philadelphia.—After an absence of three years Dr. William C. Farabee, leader of the University museum, this city, has returned from a South American expedition, having accomplished all and more than he expected.

Dr. Farabee brings with him enormous ethnological, archaeological and other collections for the museum, and on his journey took some hundreds of photographs, including many of the people and places never before visited by white men.

When the party arrived at Dadanawa they continued on foot south to the Cuduwine river, thence by canoe down this river and up the Essequibo to its source, passing on the way some villages of the Tarunias. Crossing into Brazilian territory again, they continued south almost to the equator, then east and north on foot and by bark canoe on numerous head streams of the Trombetas, and finally passed over the divide of the Courantyne and descended that river to its mouth. En route several tribes and remnants of tribes were visited and studied, some of whom were never before seen by white men and were unacquainted with matches, guns, clothing, etc. From the vocabularies it seems that dialects of both the Carib and the Arawak languages are spoken in this region. Wars have almost annihilated some of the tribes. The tribes were found to be courteous and gracious savages, who believe themselves men of peace and hunt heads of enemies only for honor.

Philadelphia.—The famous "goulash guns" which, second only to the giant howitzers have worked ceaseless wonders in the European war, are being used to feed citizen marines on hikes from their training camp at Lansdowne, Pa., which is now in operation.

The marine corps training seemingly carries a strong appeal to young men who cannot make up their minds whether to train for land or sea. All United States marines are trained for both shore and sea duty, and the citizen volunteers at Lansdowne will also be trained for the double service.

BURNED HIMSELF ON PYRE.

It Is Supposed That Sawyer Had Read About Abraham and Isaac.

Denver.—Abraham's attempted sacrifice of his son is believed to have caused Thomas Sawyer to burn himself to death near here. The body was discovered near Castle Rock. It was resting on a pile of stones and charred wood. Near by was found Sawyer's Bible.

Opening the charred Bible, Mrs. Sawyer found a passage heavily marked with a pencil describing Abraham's attempted sacrifice.

Relatives believe Sawyer built a pyre of wood and stones and offered himself as a sacrifice to the Lord.

CAT'S BABIES OF HIGH BIRTH.

Maltese and Four Kittens Discovered Far Up In Tree.

New York.—High in a maple tree a Maltese cat belonging to Michael Dooley, owner of a saloon on Union street, Flushing, purred over her four brand new kittens. She had carried to the spot material for what might be called a nest. Lying on guard over her young ones, she appeared to enjoy the refreshing breeze at that altitude.

The keeper of "Fort Dooley" had missed his pet and was surprised to find her comfortably ensconced among the branches.

Five Months Notice.

Preparatory to my quitting the Implement business, I shall on and after January 1, 1917, conduct strictly, a cash or note business. They tell me it can't be done, but I'll show you. The banks do it; Ed Townsend does it; Sears and Robuck do it, and what they can do, I can do. SO KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE INDICATOR, and do not misconstrue.

Think!!! Did you ever get ten dollars at a bank without first signing an interest bearing note, and no doubt, giving security? Did you ever get a dollars worth of groceries from Ed Townsend without first paying for them? And last, but not least, did Sears and Robuck ever send you a thing without your first sending the collateral, and too, without your having seen it? These questions, CAN BE answered by the children.

Please Remember The Date.

It is a Fact,
January 1, 1917, I shall have been in the implement business, right here in Maryville a quarter of a century. Think!

This is costing me $2.40.

KEEP AWAY FROM BOOZE

ALCOHOL MOST DANGEROUS IN HOT WEATHER.

University Professor Says Liquor Neither Builds Tissue Nor Stores Food and Is Poisonous.

"With the summer weather coming on the thirst for alcohol in the shape of beer and other drinks increases. Alcohol was formerly considered a valuable medicine, but today its use for this purpose is extremely restricted. Only in a few cases of diabetes, fever and pneumonia, where an energy producing substance is needed, is it advantageous," says Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine at the University of Missouri.

According to Dr. Ravenel, alcohol does not build tissue nor store food in the tissues. On the other hand it has a poisonous, narcotic action. As a food it is too expensive. While one may get energy from ten cents' worth of beer amounting to 240 calories, the same amount of money spent on eggs would give 450, on bread 2080, corn meal 3310, on oat meal 3720.

Use of alcohol reduces one's physical power about 8 per cent below normal, while mental efficiency is reduced from 3 to 27 per cent by moderate dosing. The effect on the death rate is as strikingly significant. Comparing abstainers, those who rarely use alcohol, temperate people, and moderate drinkers, we find the following: Abstainers show a 17 per cent smaller death rate than those who rarely use alcohol, 29 per cent less than the so-called temperate people, and 23 per cent less than those who call themselves moderate drinkers.

From an economic and social standpoint, alcohol lessens efficiency and producctivity in industrial work, and is one of the great causes of poverty, destitution and crime. The annual cost of the production and importation of alcoholic beverages in the United States is abou[illegible] a year, [illegible] the latter country [illegible]

Some of the Nice Homes.

Among the noticeably attractive homes in and around Guilford are those of J. V. Pugh, Frank Clayton, W. F. Potts, Matthew Whiteford, Dan Skidmore, John Hubble, W. J. Beggs, J. L. Thompson and R. H. Campbell. Most of these have been built in recent years.

While we were in town Harry Lett and W. A. ("Billy") Burks, candidates for sheriff, were there. Guilford feels an interest in Lett because he was born in that township. They are also proud to claim W. A. Blagg of Maryville and J. W. Perry, president of the largest bank in Kansas City, the Southwest National.

Mr. Wray also said that Guilford and Washington township have always felt a greater interest in The Democrat-Forum because the late James Todd, Sr., was reared there. His parents are buried in the cemetery at Old Guilford.

Four former Maryville residents have seen fit to throw their lot in with the people of that community. Miss Carrie L. Wilson, milliner; Fred Henderson, barber; Will N. Wray, stock buyer, and Carl Wray, banker.

I met and spent a pleasant fifteen minutes with H. W. Hildebrant, editor and owner of the Guilford Times. This young man with a jaw like President Wilson's is making that publication move right along. He is particularly strong at getting the ads, so much so in fact that he had only a half column of news last week.

Not that he couldn't get the news but he has no room for them. He has various plans for improving his plant and the size of his paper within a few months, and confidently expects to have the people of Guilford swearing "by" instead of "at" the Times as they used to do in the days gone by.

Many Repairs on Schoolhouse.

Extensive alterations and repairs are being made at this time on the Guilford school building. The interior is being redecorated, a new heating plant is being installed, new walks are being laid and equipment added. The school board is determined that the high school shall remain on the approved list of the state now that it has arrived.

Guilford beings are beginning to take an increased interest in their educational affairs and to cease to be so afraid of the bugbear of taxation for the things worth while. They have something to be proud of in the progress of their school from a one-room schoolhouse to an approved high school in eighteen years.

This community is having considerable sickness. George Covey, an old soldier, is very ill at his home in the south part of town. Lloyd McClintock, assistant cashier of the Bank of Guilford, has been out of the bank for a week. His place has been taken by Mrs. Eunice M. Parr, another assistant cashier and the heaviest stockholder. She was formerly cashier.

Andrew McClintock, agent of the C. G. W. railroad, is back at work again after an enforced absence of six weeks, most of which was spent recuperating in Iowa. There is also much illness among children there, supposably a malarial bilousness due to the warm weather. It is not serious.

Some Private Drainage Work.

The eastern side of the county has never had any drainage work. Some talk continues of a drainage district for the Platte. Whenever this is done, as in the case of the Nodaway, all the districts below are forced to straighten from self defense. S. P. Nelson believes so firmly in the principle that he is spending $100 himself in straightening Clear creek through his land. The community raised money for that purpose last year and straightened the creek.

William Brittain, one of the township trustees who lives five miles northeast of Guilford, is losing several head of cattle. The malady is thought to be blackleg. While I was in the bank, B. L. McGarey entered and deposited a check for $100 for a horse which he had just sold to Charles H. Roach. Mr. Roach is doing an extensive buying this year for war orders.

"Uncle Billy" and Mrs. W. J. Beggs will leave this week for the east and will spend four or five weeks with relatives and friends in western Pennsylvania, chiefly around Mercer and Pittsburgh.

Thus closeth the only installment of my travelogue in which I have given the entire article to a town only. Guilford, you are due to make a bow. Tomorrow I will swing to the southwest through Bolckow and back through Barnard to Maryville.

KANSAS CITY MARKET LETTER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 1.—A decrease of 9,000 cattle last week from the previous week resulted in a rise of 25 to 40 cents all along the line. Receipts today are 20,000, market 10 to 15 cents lower on grass beef steers, some cases more, butcher cattle, prime corn fed cattle and stockers and feeders close to steady. Owners in the pasture country are nervous, and a good many last minute orders for cars for today's market could not be supplied, hence a good run balance of the week is expected.

Beef Cattle.

Choice Missouri corn and grass steers sold at $10 this morning, and pretty fair corn fed steers sold down to $8.25. Kansas pasture cattle lacked quality, a few selling above $8.25. Oklahoma and Kansas grazed Texas steers sold at $6 to $7.30, and some Panhandle steers sold to killers at $7.30. Sixty-four cars of quarantine cattle came in, the best at $8.40, called steady, bulk of the cattle 10 to 15 cents lower, good steers at $7.50 to $7.75, best grass steers $7.10, light weights down to $5.75, cows $4.50 to $6.25. Butcher cattle sold steady, fancy yearling heifers on up to $9.75, best cows $7.50, grass cows $5.50 to $6.25, bulls around $6, veals $10 to $11.

Stockers and Feeders.

Shipments out last week were 11,000 head, 3,000 more than same week last year. A pretty strong demand was brought out, with prospects that it will increase right along. Choice light stock steers sell up to $8.50, most of the stockers under $7.25 however, feeders at $6.75 to $7.85. A drove of good red stock cows sold this morning at $5.50, without much fill.

Hogs.

Receipts were 11,000 and prices were 10 cents lower, eliminating at a stroke nearly all the gain made last week. Top hogs sold at $9.67½, bulk of sales $9.40 to $9.65, light weights up to $9.60. Prices are more than $2 above a year ago, and receipts are running considerably heavier, but demand from killers is urgent, although they conceal their wants as much as possible. Fresh pork trade has slumped with the coming of hot weather but demand for product keeps the salt men busy, and is the main support of the market at this time.

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices advanced 50 to 75 cents last week, and the market is fully steady. Receipts are inadequate, and packers here are shipping in sheep and lambs bought at other markets, because of shortage here. The run is 5,000 today, fair to good native lambs selling up to $10.40, Arizonas $10.40, choice Idahos worth around $10.75, best yearlings $8.25, wethers $8, ewes $7.60. Breeding stock is firm, young ewes up to $9, and choice feeding lambs cost $9 or better.

Wallaces on Northern Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wallace and daughter, Pearl Mildred, left today for a month's visit to relatives and friends in Waterloo, Cedar Falls and Richland Center, Wis.

MOOSE TO DECIDE SOON

PARTY LEADERS WILL MEET IN NEXT FEW DAYS.

Wide Split Between Colby for Wilson and Perkins for Hughes—Parker for Third Ticket.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Within a few days of the fourth anniversary of the Progressive party, Bull Moose leaders will meet here tomorrow to decide whether a third ticket shall be put in the field this year or whether the rank and file of the party adherents shall be instructed to vote as they please at the coming election.

The conference was called by Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, acting national chairman.

The breach between Bainbridge Colby, leader of the radical group, who is understood to be in favor of the Progressive party's supporting President Wilson, and George W. Perkins, who is trying to swing the Progressive vote to Hughes, constantly widens, and all hope of an amicable agreement and anything like a concerted plan of action for the coming election seems hopeless.

The conference tomorrow will decide whether or not another convention shall be called and whether the third ticket shall be completed by the naming of another candidate to take the place of Col. Roosevelt. John M. Parker of Louisiana, who was nominated as the running mate for Col. Roosevelt, when the Progressive slate was put through in the Chicago convention last June, has refused to withdraw his name, despite the efforts of his friends to persuade him to do so.

What Others Believe

Democrat-Forum, Maryville, Mo.

We, the patrons of the Conception Junction light plant, were surprised at the statement made in an article printed in your issue of July 28, regarding the light plant at this place.

With the exception of the accidents that may be expected in the installation of a new plant, the service has been very satisfactory and the plant is fully capable of furnishing adequate service for this and surrounding towns. The equipment consists of two oil engines the combined power of which is 87 horsepower and a 60 kilowatt generator. The malicious intent to injure the property and interests of our fellow townsman, Costello, is uncalled for. He has his enemies, but he also has a host of friends who are anxious to see that he is treated fairly in this matter.

RAILROAD CRISIS IS UP TO CONGRESS

Strike Seems Certain Unless Federal Commission Acts.

IT REPRESENTS THE PUBLIC.

Brotherhood Leaders Reject Proposals, One of Which Provides For Interstate Commerce Commission as Arbitrator—Also Oppose Arbitration Provided by Law They Helped to Enact.

Washington.—Whether the wage controversy between the railways and their engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen is to be settled peaceably or by a strike now seems to depend largely on what action congress will take on the proposal to refer the question to the interstate commerce commission.

The national conference committee of the railways at the recent conference in New York with the train service brotherhoods proposed settlement either by submission to the interstate commerce commission or by arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands law.

The brotherhood leaders promptly rejected both proposals, not only objecting to the interstate commerce commission as an arbitrator, but expressing their determined opposition to the plan of arbitration provided by the law which they had helped to get enacted.

To meet the objection that the interstate commerce commission now has no jurisdiction over railway wages the committee representing the railways proposed "that we jointly request congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved."

Upon the failure of the companies and the labor organizations to reach an agreement the question was put up to congress in another form, in a resolution which was introduced by Senator Newlands on June 22 providing for an investigation by the commission of the whole subject of railway wages and their relation to railway earnings.

This resolution was proposed by the chamber of commerce of the United States after having been approved by a practically unanimous referendum vote of nearly 1,000 commercial organizations throughout the country. The Newlands resolution differs from the proposal of the railways. The latter refers only to the questions presented by the demands of the 18 per cent of railway employees engaged in train service and asks the commission to settle the controversy by a decision. The Newlands resolution is much broader and, without contemplating a final settlement by the commission, directs it to investigate and report on "the minimum, maximum and average wage paid, with hours of service, to each class of railroad employees in the United States," not merely the "big four" brotherhoods of train employees. The commission would also be directed to report on the hours and wages in other industries, the relation of wages to railroad revenues, the question of whether railroad revenues based on existing rates for transportation will admit of equally favorable terms to all classes of railway employees and "any other matter in this connection that the commission may deem relevant."

The brotherhoods object strenuously to any idea of a federal tribunal fixing wages and declare that an investigation by the commission would only serve to delay matters. The only proposal they have made is that their demands be granted in full, with the alternative of a nation wide strike. They insist that the railroads will be more inclined to yield to their demands when confronted with a strike vote.

In their reply to the brotherhoods the railways advanced as their reasons for proposing to refer the question to the interstate commerce commission that it is "the only tribunal which by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected and to provide additional revenues necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the commission to be just and reasonable."

Whereas a board of arbitration constituted under the Newlands act could pass only on the questions presented to it in an arbitration agreement signed by both parties and would in no way represent the interests of the public in the controversy, the interstate commerce commission would not be so restricted and could consider the relation of the wages of the train and engine men to those of the other employees, as well as the necessary effect of an increase in wages on the rates to be paid by the public.

Without the support of public opinion the railway brotherhoods could not win a strike.—Milwaukee Free Press.

> If higher wages are due to the men higher rates are coincidentally due to the railroads.—New York Tribune.

A general strike, tying up the railroads of the country, is inconceivable. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

DAIRY

CARE OF CREAM IN SUMMER

Few Simple Rules Given Which Should Be Followed—Dirt Always Carries Bad Flavors.

(By W. B. COMBS, Missouri College of Agriculture.)

During the hot days of summer the farmer who is selling cream to the creamery finds it a problem to keep his cream in the proper condition. However, there are but a few simple rules which should be followed, that would result in better cream. First of all these is cleanliness. Dirt, remember, carries bad flavors. If the barn or its surroundings and cows are dirty it will result in poor milk; poor milk results in poor cream; poor cream results in poor butter.

Immediately after separating, the cream should be cooled down to at least 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Warm cream should never be poured upon cold as the temperature of the lot is raised and bad flavors may result. It is essential that the cream be stirred frequently to insure uniform ripening. If the cream is left undisturbed, the fat rises the same way as it does in milk. As a result the cream is full of curd particles or it becomes "lumpy."

Never put cream in a rusty or battered can and always remember that milk and cream have that property of absorbing bad flavors.

CAREFUL ATTENTION TO COW

Animal Brings in Regular Returns in Dairy Products—No Farmer Can Afford to Neglect Her.

Cows require regular and careful attention. There is work in keeping cows and giving them proper attention. But they bring in regular returns in dairy products and cash and no farmer can afford to neglect cows.

What would it mean to individual farmers and the country if every home had as many cows as it requires to supply the table with milk and butter? Perhaps none of us realize what it would mean. It would certainly give more cash from the animals and crops raised and be the means of greater profits.

Head of a Purebred Jersey.

Doubtless it would mean more than this. It would give more wholesome, nutritious foods and enable parents to rear healthier, stronger, more efficient children. Isn't this worth striving for?

DEVICES SUPPORT MILK PAIL

Curved Side Arms, Resting on Knees of Milker, Keep Receptacle in Its Proper Place.

The curved side arms of this pail, when in use, rest on the knees of the milker and help support the pail. When not in use they are folded down out of the way or are removed entirely by simply springing them out of their bearings. It is claimed that these arms are simpler than similar devices previously patented.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

FEEDING SILAGE IN SUMMER

Farmer Must Decide for Himself Whether Practice Is Cheaper Than Letting Cows on Pasture.

Every farmer must decide for himself whether it is cheaper or more profitable to feed silage during the summer or let the cows get most of their feed from the pastures. If you have land suitable for no other purpose than raising grass it would not pay to let it lie idle, but if your farm consists largely of tillable land the situation is quite different. It costs time and money to raise corn and put it in the silo and feed it out, but on many farms it will pay to rely mainly on the summer silo for the dairy herd.

ABOUT THE CIRCUS

With a record for being clean and entertaining, Wheeler Bros. enormous shows have an established reputation in the eastern and southern states, where for years it is known as "the ladies and children's circus," now will offer the western country a brand new style of tented exhibition on different lines, with an astonishing program display of more and new and novel feature exhibits than have been seen in the last have-a-dozen so-called shows. The new historic pantomimic spectacle "David and Goliath," will open a long interesting series of events; then the "World at War and Defense of the Nation," a preparedness exhibition, designed to aid in the problem that faces the country; the Pekin Guards and the Boy Scouts with the largest American flag ever built will add interest to this preparedness display; also will be seen the "Aristocratic Fox Hunt," a thrilling and exciting game of polo on horse back; the blue ribbon horse fair, over 300 high grade horses and ponies; a complete circus program in three rings; double herd of performing elephants; many amusing clown incidents that add gayety, diversion and merriment to the pleasing program, all made enjoyable by appropriate band music. The big show comes here next Saturday, and if the weather is propitious and the water not too cold, the elephants will be given a bath in a pond near the show grounds.

During the morning mile long parade route, drivers are requested to have complete control of their horses. Motor car sight seers will find desirable locations in the side streets. In case of inclement weather the waterproof canvas made of mercerized duck will afford ample protection and comfort. A downtown office will sell tickets at the same price as on the grounds.
